Description

Offers represents logical grouping of one or multiple product plans. Plans are service levels that provide different item quantity, product features, etc. For example, a product can have an offer for home and another offer for business with basic, standard, and premium plans. Furthermore, different plans usually provide different features and groups of features. Once Vendors generate a new offer instance, the system assigns the Private status to this offer. Vendors are required to define their offer and save its public version to transfer it to the Ready state. In case Vendors add their offer to their listing request, the system assigns Listed state to this offer. The following provides more information on available offer statuses and transitions on the CloudBlue Connect platform.
