Overview

Products represent substances, software or services that are provisioned, fulfilled, or manufactured by Vendors. Thus, Vendors configure their products and define all required product data via the Products module on the Connect platform. Product data include items (SKUs), product overview, provided media, and so on. Furthermore, Vendors can provide different versions of a product and send requests to list or delist these product versions on specified marketplaces. Once Vendors assign a version to a Draft product, it transfers to the Published state. Vendors can also delete a product or assign it with the End of sale status. The following provide detailed information about each product status and product transition on the CloudBlue Connect platform.
